A GLOWING REPORT.

a Indiana Man Compares Western anada with the United States-What Mr. Frank Flaher, a Prominent Dunkard, Has to Say After a Trip Through Canada.

The Department of the Interior at Ottawa has just received from Mr. E. T. Holmes, the Agent of the Government stationed at Indianapolis, Indiana, the following letter, which requires no comment. It is only necessary to state that Mr. F. Fisher, the writer of the letter, is one of the most prominent of the Dunkards and a man upon whose word the utmost reliance can be placed. His home is at Mexico, Indiana, and he will be pleased to substantiate verbally or in any other way all that he says in his letter.

To my many friends: I am pleased to make a report to you of the pleasant visit my wife and I had in Western Canada.

We visited the territories of Alberta, Assiniboia, and Saskatchewan, and found them far surpassing our imagination, but little did I expect to find such rich, loamy soil, so much of it, and so uniform in its level prairie lay. I do think the soil of Canada as a rule equals if not excels the finest prairie farm lands of Indiana. These lands are immense in their richness, and when once the sod is rotted and pulverized, it is as pliable and as easily cultivated as Indiana sandy soil.

Western Canada, from my point of view, offers as fine opportunities for mixed farming as any place in my knowledge. The long, sunshiny days, together with the rich soil, produce very fine wheat, oats, barley, flax and other cereal products. There is scarcely any attempt to raise corn, except early varieties for table use. The season is too short to depend upon maturing field corn. From the standpoint of getting this land ready for the plow, I must say that I never saw such a vast extent, practically all ready, so all that one has to do is to hitch up the plow and go to work. This is not the case with all the Canadian land, however; some of It has quite a bit of timber, much of it may be called brush land, and some of it has lovely forest groves, dotted here and there, thereby covering a hundred and sixty acres.

I have no doubt but that this country excels as a grazing or ranching country, because they have such rich grass, having an abundance of rain to keep it fresh. They also have plenty of water streams, and as a rule water may be reached at a depth of from 20 to 40 feet. From this you see there can be plenty of hay mown for winter feeding, and I have had reliable farmers to tell me that their stock will feed on hay alone, and be ready for market in the spring. Upon inquiring about the expense of raising a steer, a farmer replied that he did not consider it would cost any more than $4.00 or $6.00 to develop a three-year-old steer.

I truly think Canada offers a fine opening for a young man or a man who is renting land in Indiana. One hundred and sixty acres of good black land will cost you only $10.00 at the time you enter it, and by plowing and cultivating five acres each year for three years, gives you one hundred and sixty acres of good land for $10.00. This land can be bought from the Railroad Companies, private corporations or the Government for $3.00 to $4.00 per acre.

From a financial standpoint, I believe that for a series of years (five). s young man can make $10.00 in Canada, whereas he would only make $1.00 here, and I feel sure that I spent more money to get my eighty acre farm in White County, Indiana, cultivated, than it would cost me to cultivate eight hundred acres in Cande. This may seem a strong view to take of the matter, but when you take into consideration the clearing, ditching, fencing and the expensive breaking in of the stumps, and then compare the expense to that of land needing only the breaking, you will conclude that it is not such a wild or exaggerated statement as you might at first think.

I enjoyed the balmy, breezy atmosphere, which was bracing and refreshing, and the cool nights which made it so pleasant for sleep.

On making inquiries regarding the winters in this country I learned that the people never suffer from the cold, as the weather is dry and invigorating, and in a great many places, farmers and herders allow their stock to run outside the year round.

One great advantage to the settlers in Western Canada is the free creameries established by the Government, and run exclusively in the interest of the farmer.

I visited Thomas Daley, a farmer near Edmonton, Alberta, who showed me oats he had raised, some of which took the first prize at the Paris Exposition last year. The same yielded 110 bushels to the acre in 1899.

Yours truly, FRANK FISHER.

News From the Wounded President Continues of an Encouraging Character.

NO COMPLICATIONS HAVE DEVELOPED.

The Belief Prevails That the President Will Recover, and That Belief is Reflected in the Countenances of Visitors Leaving the Milburn Home at Buffalo.

Milburn House, Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 9 .- "God's contribution to the American people will be the sparing of the president's life." As the evening shadows were falling to-night, John G. Milburn, president of the Pan-American exposition reverently uttered these words as he stood before the house in which the nation's patient was fighting so bravely with death. And all who have been at the Milburn residence to-day reflect the view that the battle will be wen, and the prayers of the world will be answered. Since last night not an unfavorable symptom has appeared. Every hour has been a victory. Within, faith in the outcome grows strönger, and hope mounts higher and higher, until in the minds of some the danger of all future complications is brushed aside and hope has become conviction. Indeed, many of the president's friends seem possessed with a sort of superstitious confidence in the president's recovery which nothing but an absolute change for the worse can shake. And the basis for the confidence that is expressed is solid. There has been nothing but improvement, gradual and slow, but steady improvement. Every bulletin, every private and public word of the physicians in attendance breathes encouragement. The reports which the physicians have given out are facts as they exist from a scientific standpoint, unmixed with senti-

Still, that the president is by no means out of danger, is the verdict of each of them. Not one of them will risk his professional reputation with a statement that the president will live. All they will say is that with every hour the danger of complications from peritonitis or blood poisoning decreases.

Dr. McBurney, the most eminent of the phyiscians in attendance, expresses the opinion that if the improvement continues it will be a week yet before the president can be pronounced out of danger and convales cent. And some of his colleagues, like Dr. Mann, place the limit of danger still further away. The fear of peritonitis, it can be said positively, has well nigh disappeared. At the expiration of the 72-hour period at four o'clock this afternoon, danger from that source was almost gone .-The president himself has been cheerful all day, and has expressed confidence in his recovery. To-day he asked for a morning paper, but this, of course, had to be denied him. It is with some difficulty that he can be restrained from talking, and Col. Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland, is quoted as authority for the statement that he has spoken at intervals of several

This morning he asked to be allowed to change his position, and when permission was given, before the attendants could move him, he changed to the position he desired to assume without difficulty or pain. No one else was allowed to see him, although he inquired several times who were be low stairs.

He was given nourishment to-day in the form of eggs beaten in milk administered through the rectum. The water which has been given hereto fore cold, did not appear to agree with him, and since last night very hot water has been taken into the stomach through the mouth with splendid results. His bowels moved freely during the day, and this also was considered an excellent symptom. If he continues to improve it will be gradually. If he should grow worse the president will recover." the change in that direction also probably will be slow. This is the epinion of Dr. Mann. There will be no crisis. The extreme optimism of the vice president and the members of the cabinet would be difficult to overstate. ### Wilson avow that only absolute and imperative public business will induce them to depart before the president is pronounced out of danger.

Senator Hanna will also remain until the physicians give absolute assurance that Mr. McKinley will live. Controller Dawes and some of the other eminent men connected with the administration, expect to depart to-morrow or Wednesday, if the imprevement continues.

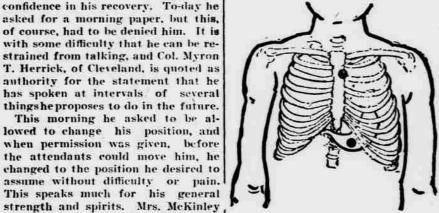

Vice-President Roosevelt has occuried a peculiarly delicate and trying position since the event which threat ened the president's life, but he has borne himself throughout this ordeal in such a manner as to win the admiration and respect of all. It has, ingreover, added a new bond between the vice-president and those intimately essociated with the president, and the latter are warmest in their expressions of the manner in which he has met every requirement of the situation. Not for a moment has he permitted the idea to be entertained that there was need for considering the constitutional disability of the president and the exercise of executive functions which this would impose on him. On the contrary, Mr. Roosevelt has been one of the most positive in the conviction that the president would recover. During the long period of Mr. Garfield's illness nice distinctions arose as to what constituted the disability of the president within the meaning of the constitution; whether, when the physical faculties were benumbed while the mental faculties were unimpaired there was any disability as meant by the constitution. But fortunately there has been no such issue raised on this occasion, and the vice-president himself has been primarily responsible for the avoidance of any thought of the temporary exercise of executive functions by him. Nor has there been any occasion for the exercise of executive authority, for each minor routine matter as it comes can readily be left until the present emergency has passed. Twice during the day, and again this evening, the vice-president has called at the Milburn residence to inquire as to the president's condition. During the afternoon call he met several of the cabinet officers and Senator Hanna and spent a short time Antecedents, Occupation and Rest with them in informal discussion. On the streets Mr. Roosevelt has been the center of respectful attention, but he has met this with dignity and composure. Despite senseless remarks that he was going about guarded by secret service men, he has positively declined to have anything like a guard near him. One of his remarks to-day, dent of Portland.
